Grammar: verbs with stative and dynamic uses

Read the text. What positive aspects of multinational corporations are mentioned?

Multinational Spread

Walk around almost any city in the world and you see signs advertising multinational corporations. These companies are having a major effect on emerging economies around the world. They often have branches in many countries and can offer varied job opportunities, especially for young people. A recent study found that more young people than ever are thinking of applying for jobs with such companies. However, some people think that large companies take money out of the country. They would prefer local companies to do well. Whatever the pros and cons are, it looks as if multinational corporations are here to stay.

Verbs that change meaning in the continuous form:

Multinational are huge companies
(permanent state, general truth)

They often have branches...
(possession, characteristics)

You see signs...
(notice, observe, understand)

Some people think that large companies...
(have an opinion)

You're not being serious!
(acting or behaving)

These companies are having a major effect
(causing, experiencing)

Janie has been seeing Tom for two months now.
(date)

Young people than ever are thinking of applying...
(the process of thought)

Choose the correct options to complete the sentences. Discuss your choices in pairs.

1. I think / am thinking of applying for a job with a large company.
2. We don't have / are not having an office in Australia.
3. Stop behaving like that! You are / are being ridiculous.
4. Yes, I see / am seeing your point of view.
5. What do you think / are you thinking of multinational corporations?
6. There are / are being fewer jobs for young people these days.
7. I saw Jim and Davina having dinner together. Do they see / Are they seeing each other?

Work in groups. Brainstorm which keywords you might search when writing an essay on any of the following topics.

1. The effects of American fast-food chains on local economies in India.
2. How American wheat exports have changed food preferences in The Philippines.
3. Why globalisation is bad for Uzbekistan.
4. Why globalisation is good for Uzbekistan.
