

Week 4.1

Listening: Discourse markers in academic speaking
Vocabulary: Life satisfaction

Do you agree with these definitions of happiness? Explain why or why not.

- Happiness is having good friends you can talk to.
- Happiness is feeling you've done your best.
- Happiness is helping other people.
- Happiness is feeling peaceful and secure.
- Happiness is having enough money to buy whatever you want.
- Happiness is being independent.

Work in pairs. First, complete the definition in your own words. Then explain your definition to a partner.

Happiness is...

Listening: Discourse markers in academic speaking

Why do we need to keep practicing discourse markers?

Discourse markers often act as signposts, giving a listener clues about what they might hear next. They might introduce additional points, contrasting ideas or a conclusion. The correct use of discourse markers in both writing and speaking is one of the things that examiners often look for in academic and proficiency exams

Listen to the introduction to a lecture. What is the lecture going to be about?

Listen to the full lecture. As you listen, write one word to complete each of the phrases below.

_____ general

_____ the other hand

_____ addition

_____ a result

Sort the discourse markers in the box below into the four categories.

Phrases used to talk generally	Phrases used to introduce a contrasting point	Phrases used to introduce a result	Phrases used to introduce an additional point
-----------------------------------	---	---------------------------------------	---

on the whole ~ nevertheless ~ furthermore ~ to a great extent ~ as a consequence ~ that said ~ what's more ~ consequently

Listen to the lecture again and answer the questions. Discuss your answers in pairs.

1. What did the first study find out?
2. How did the second study contradict the first study?
3. What is the difference between satisfaction and happiness?
4. Why do you think wealthier people enjoy everyday pleasure less?

Vocabulary: Life satisfaction

Complete the tables with the correct form of each word.

Adjective	Noun
happy
wealthy pleasure contentment appreciation
enjoy satisfaction

Match the words on the left to their definitions on the right.

1. in a good mood
2. state of well-being
3. emotions
4. optimistic
5. depressed
6. pessimistic
7. focused
8. distracted

- a. having a generally positive attitude
- b. preoccupied, thinking about sth. else
- c. feeling of general happiness
- d. having a generally negative attitude
- e. feelings
- f. unhappy
- g. concentrating on what you're doing
- h. cheerful

Fill in the missing spaces using words from today's lesson.

1. The building work took a long time but I'm really _____ with the results.
2. The course is going well and I'm getting good grades so I'm quite _____ with my progress.
3. Economic growth had created a lot of _____.
4. He loved spending time with his grandchildren. They gave him great _____.
5. Like a lot of men of his age, he finds it hard to express his _____.
6. You seem very happy this morning, Chloe! What's put you in such a good _____?
7. We love dancing. We both get a lot of _____ from it.
8. He'd stopped eating properly and he wasn't sleeping well and I was worried that he was becoming _____.

Work in pairs. Complete the sentences with the correct form of the word in brackets. Then discuss them with your partner.

1. I feel _____ (satisfaction) with my life when I...
2. People usually _____ (appreciation) happiness more when they...
3. I think people are generally more _____ (contentment) when they...
4. Material _____ (wealthy) can sometimes cause unhappiness because...
5. _____ (enjoy) of life depends on ... as well as...

Video

and a good work/life balance are guaranteed,

Watch the video and write down the items that are mentioned.

- good health
- regular exercise
- steady income
- housing
- positive work-life balance
- healthy diet
- cultural activities
- family

Choose the correct options to complete the sentences.

1. The government and the people strive for / on / by economic wealth.
2. Every human being aspires in / to / over be happy.
3. A country's development should be measured on / by / to its citizens' happiness.
4. People get positive energy from participating by / on / in cultural life.
5. The King's decisions were based on / over / in Gross National Happiness.
6. He decided to hand to / over / for sovereignty to the people.