Question 1

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Komil's team is struggling due to vague goals and no clarity on who does what. According to Hackman, what is missing?

Select one:

- ☒ 1. Compelling direction
- ☐ 2. Coaching
- ☐ 3. Enabling structure
- ☐ 4. Real team boundaries
- ☐ 5. Individual incentives

Your answer is incorrect.

Without structure—clear roles, responsibilities, and team norms—the team lacks the foundation to function effectively.

The correct answer is: Enabling structure

Question 2

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

In a problem-solving team, Timur often dominates the conversation and rarely lets others speak. Over time, others start agreeing with him to avoid conflict. Which OB concept is illustrated here?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Groupthink
- ☐ 2. Task orientation
- ☐ 3. Conscientiousness
- ☒ 4. Participative leadership ✖
- ☐ 5. Social facilitation

Your answer is incorrect.

When team members avoid disagreement to maintain harmony, groupthink arises. It leads to poor decision-making, even when individual members see flaws in the leader's opinion.

The correct answer is: Groupthink

Question 3

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Barno leads an experienced employee who is technically very capable but seems uninterested and disengaged in recent team tasks. What should Barno do to improve the situation?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Avoid giving instructions and focus only on completing deadlines
- ☐ 2. Provide detailed work instructions and enforce accountability through close monitoring
- ☒ 3. Step back and give full autonomy, allowing the employee to self-manage ✖
- ☐ 4. Praise the employee publicly without changing any tasks
- ☐ 5. Invite the employee into planning decisions, show appreciation, and ask for their input on improvements

Your answer is incorrect.

When an employee is able but unwilling, the best approach is to increase relationship support—not control—by involving them in decisions and reigniting motivation.

The correct answer is: Invite the employee into planning decisions, show appreciation, and ask for their input on improvements

Question 4

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Dilafruz constantly compares her input at work to her peers and feels frustrated when she sees others being promoted faster despite equal effort. Which theory explains her reaction?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Self-Determination Theory
- ☐ 2. McGregor's Theory Y
- ☒ 3. Equity Theory ✓
- ☐ 4. Expectancy Theory
- ☐ 5. Maslow's Hierarchy

Your answer is correct.

Equity Theory is based on fairness. When people perceive inequity in reward versus effort, especially in comparison to peers, it leads to dissatisfaction and reduced motivation.

The correct answer is: Equity Theory

Question 5

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Gulnora sends a well-written email to her team, but they misinterpret her tone as rude. Which element of the communication process has failed?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Channel
- ☐ 2. Feedback
- ☒ 3. Decoding ✓
- ☐ 4. Encoding
- ☐ 5. Sender

Your answer is correct.

Decoding is the process by which the receiver interprets the message. The misinterpretation of tone, especially in written messages without nonverbal cues, shows that decoding failed even though the message was clear in content.

The correct answer is: Decoding

Question 6

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Malika wants to hire someone for a new IT role. Which HR tools should she use to ensure she selects the most suitable candidate?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. KPI dashboards
- ☐ 2. Staff rotation and feedback forms
- ☐ 3. All answers are correct
- ☐ 4. Payroll and time tracking systems
- ☒ 5. Job description and job specification ✓

Your answer is correct.

A job description outlines the tasks and responsibilities of the role, while a job specification identifies the qualifications, skills, and experience required of a suitable candidate. Using both ensures that the selected person fits the job's demands, reducing hiring mistakes.

The correct answer is: Job description and job specification

Question 7

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Lola and Sardor are coworkers. Lola misunderstands Sardor's message because she was emotional from a previous argument. What barrier to communication occurred here?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Selective perception
- ☐ 2. Attitude barrier
- ☒ 3. Emotions ✓
- ☐ 4. Filtering
- ☐ 5. Encoding error

Your answer is correct.

Emotions can significantly color how messages are received and interpreted. Anger or stress makes it hard to decode messages objectively, which likely occurred with Lola.

The correct answer is: Emotions

Question 8

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Anvar's department sets monthly sales targets. If actual sales fall below these targets, management revises the targets downward due to market shifts. What type of corrective action is this?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Basic corrective action
- ☐ 2. Immediate corrective action
- ☒ 3. Feedback-based discipline
- ☐ 4. Strategic correction
- ☐ 5. Revision of Standard

Your answer is incorrect.

Revising the standards occurs when the original benchmarks are no longer realistic. Anvar's company adapts to external conditions by adjusting goals rather than forcing performance.

The correct answer is: Revision of Standard

Question 9

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Shahzoda is passionate about improving herself at work. She gets regular feedback and feels her job is meaningful. Which Job Characteristics are most likely supporting her motivation?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Goal setting and reward clarity
- ☐ 2. Autonomy and task identity
- ☐ 3. Feedback and skill variety
- ☐ 4. Valence and expectancy
- ☒ 5. Task significance and performance appraisal

Your answer is incorrect.

Skill variety and feedback are central elements in Hackman & Oldham's Job Characteristics Model. They support intrinsic motivation by making work feel meaningful and offering insight into performance, exactly as Shahzoda experiences.

The correct answer is: Feedback and skill variety

Question 10

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Gulchehra uses the same leadership approach for every employee—giving equal levels of instruction and support—regardless of how experienced or motivated they are. What major issue does this present?

Select one:

- ☒ 1. It ignores individual differences in development and readiness ✓
- ☐ 2. It creates overload by assigning too much responsibility to one person
- ☐ 3. It encourages emotional detachment from the leader
- ☐ 4. It reduces efficiency by focusing too much on process compliance
- ☐ 5. It promotes favoritism and peer conflict

Your answer is correct.

The foundation of SLT is that leadership must be adapted to the follower's ability and willingness. A uniform style ignores readiness levels, reducing both motivation and performance.

The correct answer is: It ignores individual differences in development and readiness

Question 11

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

What is the main goal of feedforward control?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Track data after performance is complete
- ☐ 2. Create team bonding before a project
- ☐ 3. Review what happened after a task
- ☒ 4. Set guidelines and prevent errors before they occur ✓
- ☐ 5. Monitor employee moods

Your answer is correct.

Feedforward controls are proactive—they involve training, planning, or process checks to avoid mistakes before work begins.

The correct answer is: Set guidelines and prevent errors before they occur

Question 12

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Nodira leads a team where people are capable and motivated. According to Hersey and Blanchard's SLT model, what leadership style should she use?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Directive
- ☐ 2. Telling
- ☐ 3. Participating
- ☒ 4. Delegating
- ☐ 5. Selling

Your answer is correct.

The "R4" follower readiness level—able and willing—calls for a "delegating" style. Nodira should give her team space and avoid micromanagement.

The correct answer is: Delegating

Question 13

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

In Bekzod's department, some employees consistently get better projects and evaluations. Others feel left out, even when they perform well. What leadership model explains this division?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Path-Goal Theory
- ☒ 2. Leader-Member Exchange (LMX) ✓
- ☐ 3. Charismatic Leadership
- ☐ 4. Transformational Leadership
- ☐ 5. Trait Theory

Your answer is correct.

LMX theory focuses on how leaders create "in-groups" and "out-groups," affecting satisfaction, trust, and performance.

The correct answer is: Leader-Member Exchange (LMX)

Question 14

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

What does the affective component of attitude refer to?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Job description
- ☐ 2. Skills used at work
- ☒ 3. How others perceive us ✖
- ☐ 4. Emotional feelings toward something
- ☐ 5. Promotion expectations

Your answer is incorrect.

It reflects a person's emotions about their job or workplace (e.g., liking or disliking a task).

The correct answer is: Emotional feelings toward something

Question 15

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

What does "group cohesiveness" refer to?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. How quickly a team finishes tasks
- ☐ 2. Whether they have the same salary
- ☒ 3. How much group members enjoy working together and staying united ✔
- ☐ 4. How big a team is
- ☐ 5. Number of meetings per week

Your answer is correct.

Cohesiveness is the degree of emotional connection and commitment among group members.

The correct answer is: How much group members enjoy working together and staying united

Question 16

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Nasiba thrives in roles where she can compete and outperform peers. She dislikes routine work and is frustrated by overly team-based rewards. According to McClelland, which need dominates her motivation?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Power (personalized)
- ☐ 2. Achievement
- ☐ 3. Affiliation
- ☐ 4. Power (institutional)
- ☒ 5. Recognition

Your answer is incorrect.

McClelland's Need for Achievement drives people who seek challenging goals, prefer individual performance, and dislike uncertainty or group-based outcomes.

The correct answer is: Achievement

Question 17

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

What is the final stage of group development called?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Performing
- ☐ 2. Norming
- ☐ 3. Forming
- ☐ 4. Storming
- ☒ 5. Adjourning

Your answer is correct.

"Adjourning" is when a temporary group disbands after completing its task.

The correct answer is: Adjourning

Question 18

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Firuz's new team is struggling with hidden conflict, power competition and disagreement over how tasks should be done. What stage of Tuckman's group development are they in?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Performing
- ☐ 2. Adjourning
- ☐ 3. Norming
- ☐ 4. Forming
- ☒ 5. Storming ✓

Your answer is correct.

The storming stage involves conflict over roles, goals, and power. It's a necessary tension-filled phase before norms and cooperation solidify.

The correct answer is: Storming

Question 19

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Timur enjoys learning new skills and solving problems. His manager offers him a more comfortable chair and a better parking spot. He remains unmotivated. What factor is missing?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Feedback
- ☐ 2. Expectancy
- ☐ 3. Hygiene
- ☐ 4. Equity
- ☒ 5. Motivators (intrinsic factors)

Your answer is correct.

Herzberg's theory states that hygiene factors (comfort, environment) prevent dissatisfaction but don't motivate. Timur needs motivators—like challenge or recognition—to feel engaged.

The correct answer is: Motivators (intrinsic factors)

Question 20

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

What is the key idea behind operant conditioning?

Select one:

- ☒ 1. People prefer fewer choices ❌
- ☐ 2. Behavior is shaped by its consequences
- ☐ 3. People change when they reflect deeply
- ☐ 4. Values drive team norms
- ☐ 5. Memory influences performance

Your answer is incorrect.

Operant conditioning uses rewards (positive reinforcement) or punishments to shape behavior. Consistent consequences build long-term habits.

The correct answer is: Behavior is shaped by its consequences

Question 21

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Jasur's manager attributes his mistake to laziness, not realizing Jasur had no internet at home. What bias is this?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Conformity bias
- ☒ 2. Perception gap ❌
- ☐ 3. Status projection
- ☐ 4. Fundamental attribution error
- ☐ 5. Dissonance

Your answer is incorrect.

The fundamental attribution error occurs when we underestimate external factors and blame personal traits.

The correct answer is: Fundamental attribution error

Question 22

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Nigora learns best by observing her experienced colleague and copying her approach. Which learning theory does this reflect?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Attribution feedback
- ☐ 2. Operant reinforcement
- ☐ 3. Classical conditioning
- ☐ 4. Conflict modeling
- ☒ 5. Social learning theory

Your answer is correct.

Social learning emphasizes modeling—watching others, retaining behavior, reproducing it, and being reinforced.

The correct answer is: Social learning theory

Question 23

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Bekzod believes that all employees dislike work, avoid responsibility, and need close supervision. What theory of leadership is reflected in his beliefs?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Theory X
- ☐ 2. McClelland's Need Theory
- ☐ 3. Path-Goal Theory
- ☐ 4. Theory Y
- ☒ 5. Blake & Mouton's 9,9 Model

Your answer is incorrect.

Theory X assumes workers are lazy and must be controlled, which leads to an autocratic leadership style. Bekzod's negative view of people is classic Theory X thinking.

The correct answer is: Theory X

Question 24

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

During a team project, Shahnoza finds herself avoiding leadership because her group expects her to coordinate everything while she's also preparing for exams. Which group concept does this reflect?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Job dissatisfaction
- ☐ 2. Norm violation
- ☒ 3. Role conflict ✓
- ☐ 4. Selective perception
- ☐ 5. Status incongruence

Your answer is correct.

Shahnoza is caught between conflicting expectations (being a leader and a student under pressure). Role conflict exists when multiple roles clash, making it hard to meet expectations for both.

The correct answer is: Role conflict

Question 25

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

What is the main reason organizations conduct a job analysis?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. To plan marketing events
- ☐ 2. To allocate desk space
- ☐ 3. To set product prices
- ☐ 4. To understand job requirements and employee qualifications
- ☒ 5. To manage project budgets ✗

Your answer is incorrect.

Job analysis defines the nature of the job and the ideal employee profile, which is critical for recruitment and evaluation.

The correct answer is: To understand job requirements and employee qualifications

Question 26

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

What is the primary advantage of using concurrent control systems (e.g., live dashboards)?

Select one:

- ☒ 1. They allow real-time correction during task execution ✓
- ☐ 2. They evaluate final outcomes efficiently
- ☐ 3. They automate recruitment
- ☐ 4. They improve employee retention
- ☐ 5. They eliminate the need for feedback

Your answer is correct.

Concurrent controls operate during activities. For example, live monitoring allows managers to spot problems instantly and act before errors escalate.

The correct answer is: They allow real-time correction during task execution

Question 27

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

A hotel manager uses customer reviews and post-service surveys to evaluate the performance of employees. What type of control is being used?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Self-regulation
- ☒ 2. Feedback ✓
- ☐ 3. Feedforward
- ☐ 4. Self-regulation
- ☐ 5. Concurrent

Your answer is correct.

Feedback control happens after a process is complete. In this case, customer responses allow the manager to assess service quality and adjust for future improvement.

The correct answer is: Feedback

Question 28

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Which of the following increases group conformity?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Anonymous voting
- ☐ 2. Tasks with clear answers
- ☒ 3. High-status members and public responses ✓
- ☐ 4. Less difficult tasks
- ☐ 5. Private messaging

Your answer is correct.

When status is high and responses are public, people tend to conform more.

The correct answer is: High-status members and public responses

Question 29

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

If a manager at Inha University attributes a student's failure to laziness without checking that the student was recently hospitalized, what error is this?

Select one:

- ☒ 1. Fundamental attribution error ✓
- ☐ 2. Attribution bias
- ☐ 3. Filtering bias
- ☐ 4. Selective perception
- ☐ 5. Self-serving bias

Your answer is correct.

Fundamental attribution error occurs when someone overemphasizes internal causes (e.g., laziness) and ignores external circumstances. This question tests not just recall, but the ability to apply the theory to real-life logic.

The correct answer is: Fundamental attribution error

Question 30

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Durdona blames her teammate for missing a deadline, assuming he's lazy. She's unaware he had a family emergency. What error is she making?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Halo effect
- ☐ 2. Self-monitoring
- ☒ 3. Fundamental attribution error ✓
- ☐ 4. Projection
- ☐ 5. High openness to experience

Your answer is correct.

She underestimates external causes and overemphasizes personality—classic fundamental attribution error.

The correct answer is: Fundamental attribution error

Question 31

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Why should HRM consider both internal and external recruitment sources?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. To increase vendor costs
- ☒ 2. To balance organizational knowledge with fresh perspectives ✓
- ☐ 3. To train more part-time employees
- ☐ 4. To reduce internet usage
- ☐ 5. To delay onboarding timelines

Your answer is correct.

Internal recruitment offers continuity and familiarity, while external recruitment brings in new ideas and broader experience.

The correct answer is: To balance organizational knowledge with fresh perspectives

Question 32

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Which of the following would most likely reduce social loafing in a student group assignment?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Setting tight deadlines
- ☒ 2. Evaluating individuals in addition to group results
- ☐ 3. Choosing group members with similar GPAs
- ☐ 4. Assigning a clear leader
- ☐ 5. Allowing everyone to choose their role

Your answer is correct.

Social loafing thrives when individual contributions are invisible. Evaluating each person's performance adds accountability and reduces the tendency to "hide" in group efforts.

The correct answer is: Evaluating individuals in addition to group results

Question 33

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Timur is supervising an intern who is excited to contribute and shows strong interest in the project, but still lacks technical skills and knowledge of procedures. What should Timur do?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Set long-term goals for the intern and evaluate outcomes after project completion
- ☐ 2. Request the intern to research solutions and provide feedback only at the end
- ☐ 3. Give minimal instructions to encourage creativity but check in occasionally
- ☒ 4. Explain the steps thoroughly, demonstrate how to do the tasks, and offer encouragement throughout
- ☐ 5. Let the intern explore projects independently and avoid micromanaging

Your answer is correct.

This intern is willing but unable. The leader should combine high task direction with supportive behavior, helping them learn while boosting confidence.

The correct answer is: Explain the steps thoroughly, demonstrate how to do the tasks, and offer encouragement throughout

Question 34

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Nasiba feels overwhelmed with updates, notifications and emails throughout the day, making it hard to focus. This is an example of what communication barrier?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Emotions
- ☐ 2. Filtering
- ☒ 3. Noise
- ☐ 4. Information overload
- ☐ 5. Encoding error

Your answer is incorrect.

Information overload happens when the volume of data exceeds one's ability to process it. In this case, constant digital input distracts from important tasks and decisions.

The correct answer is: Information overload

Question 35

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

What is social loafing?

Select one:

- ☒ 1. A person contributing less in group work
- ☐ 2. Celebrating birthdays at work
- ☐ 3. Solving problems together
- ☐ 4. Someone taking long breaks
- ☐ 5. Delegating tasks fairly

Your answer is correct.

Social loafing is when individuals exert less effort in group tasks than when alone.

The correct answer is: A person contributing less in group work

Question 36

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

To prevent employees from faking activity during remote work, Dilrabo's company installs keyboard-tracking software. Over time, morale drops and turnover increases. What is the root issue here?

Select one:

- ☒ 1. Over-control leading to low trust
-
- ☐ 2. Weak leadership
- ☐ 3. Misaligned incentives
- ☐ 4. Lack of training
- ☐ 5. Poor IT infrastructure

Your answer is correct.

Excessive monitoring undermines employee autonomy and trust. Modern control must balance accountability with psychological safety.

The correct answer is: Over-control leading to low trust

Question 37

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Dilnoza is part of a team where one person always skips tasks but still gets equal rewards. What group behavior problem is this?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Conformity
- ☐ 2. Role perception
- ☒ 3. Social loafing
- ☐ 4. Empowerment
- ☐ 5. Groupthink

Your answer is correct.

When someone relies on others to do the work but still benefits, it's classic social loafing.

The correct answer is: Social loafing

Question 38

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Aziza copies the behavior of a high-performing senior colleague and receives praise from her manager. Which learning approach does this reflect?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Operant conditioning
- ☐ 2. Equity modeling
- ☐ 3. Classical conditioning
- ☒ 4. Social learning
- ☐ 5. Attribution training

Your answer is correct.

Social learning emphasizes modeling behavior, especially when it leads to reinforcement. Aziza learns through observing, imitating, and receiving rewards.

The correct answer is: Social learning

Question 39

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

Shahnoza tracks her team's performance using KPIs, system live dashboards, and daily task updates. What type of organizational control is she using?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Concurrent control
- ☐ 2. Feedback control
- ☒ 3. Tight control
- ☐ 4. Supportive control
- ☐ 5. Feedforward control

Your answer is incorrect.

Concurrent control monitors performance as it happens in real time. Shahnoza's use of live dashboards and immediate task tracking is a classic example of concurrent control mechanisms.

The correct answer is: Concurrent control

Question 40

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Which of the following best captures the purpose of Human Resource Management (HRM)?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Training users on software
- ☐ 2. Developing apps and systems for HR
- ☐ 3. Hiring temporary contractors only
- ☐ 4. Creating payroll budgets
- ☒ 5. Managing people to support business goals ✓

Your answer is correct.

HRM is about aligning employee-related decisions—hiring, training, motivation—with the strategic goals of the organization.

The correct answer is:

Managing people to support business goals

Question 41

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Rustam is unsure whether to act as a supportive friend or a strict supervisor with his teammate. What is he experiencing?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Negative perception
- ☐ 2. Motivation mismatch
- ☒ 3. Role conflict ✓
- ☐ 4. Power distance
- ☐ 5. Status imbalance

Your answer is correct.

Conflicting expectations from different roles create role conflict.

The correct answer is: Role conflict

Question 42

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

Javohir leads a group of newly hired interns who are eager but unskilled. What leadership style is most appropriate according to SLT?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Laissez-faire
- ☐ 2. Participating
- ☐ 3. Delegating
- ☒ 4. Telling
- ☐ 5. Selling

Your answer is correct.

For employees with low ability but high willingness (R1), SLT suggests “telling”—a high-task, low-relationship style—to give direction and structure.

The correct answer is: Telling

Question 43

Correct

Mark 1.00 out of 1.00

What is the key difference between “advocacy” and “inquiry” in team decision making?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Inquiry promotes secrecy
- ☒ 2. Inquiry encourages open debate; advocacy seeks to win an argument
- ☐ 3. Advocacy is silent; inquiry is expressive
- ☐ 4. Inquiry is competitive; advocacy is passive
- ☐ 5. Advocacy is only used in large firms

Your answer is correct.

Inquiry supports learning and participation through dialogue, while advocacy focuses on persuasion, which may limit diverse input.

The correct answer is: Inquiry encourages open debate; advocacy seeks to win an argument

Question 44

Incorrect

Mark 0.00 out of 1.00

A team at a fintech startup in Uzbekistan uses frequent peer feedback, flexible roles, and clear challenging objectives. Which combination of theories best explains their motivation strategy?

Select one:

- ☐ 1. Theory X and Maslow
- ☐ 2. Reinforcement and Herzberg
- ☐ 3. Goal-Setting and Job Characteristics
- ☐ 4. Maslow and Expectancy
- ☒ 5. Equity and McClelland

Your answer is incorrect.

Challenging objectives align with Goal-Setting Theory (Locke), while peer feedback and varied tasks align with the Job Characteristics Model (Hackman & Oldham). The combined use of these theories fosters sustained motivation and engagement in modern teams.

The correct answer is: Goal-Setting and Job Characteristics
